"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players:
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts . . ."

William Shakespeare

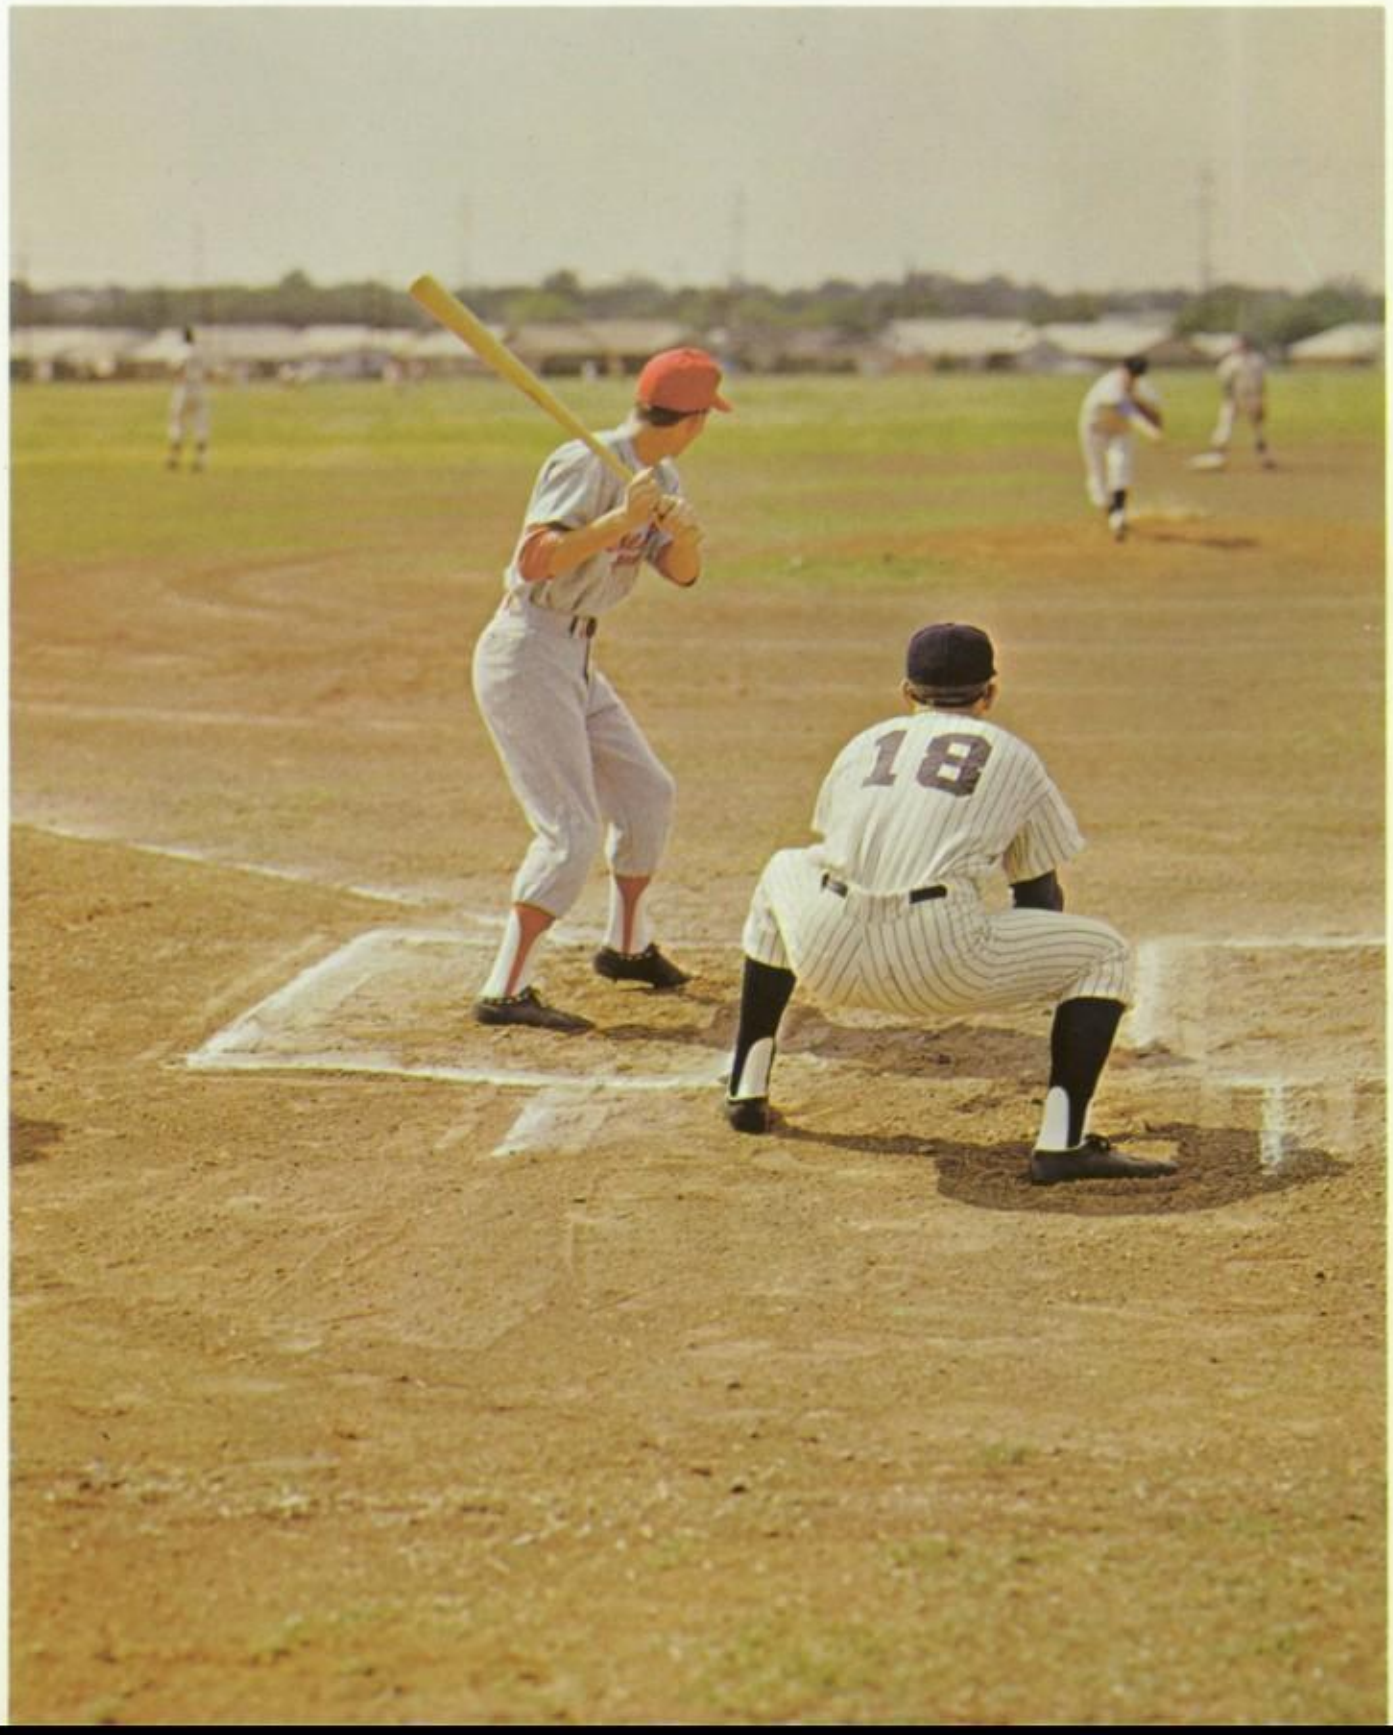
Each of us made our entrance at Southeast when we began high school here in the ninth grade. And now for the Seniors the curtain has been drawn to a close.

During our four years at Southeast, we have portrayed many and varied roles in the four act drama of high school life—friend, scholar, sportsman, musician, artist, journalist, contestant, club member, leader and follower —but the most important role of all is that of a Spartan!

In each act our moods and attitudes changed with the different scenes and players with whom we came in contact. Throughout the years we've all been ambitious, diligent, neglectful, studious, tense, hopeful, dubious, triumphant, and disheartened.

This is the theme and purpose of the '66 Spartan—to show within these pages the many moods and roles that each true Spartan has portrayed.

Like the early Spartans, we too have proved our athletic abilities in the many fields of sports.



Mrs. Carson introduced her English 9 classes to new books for their oncoming book reports.

Senator Cleeta John Rogers spoke to the newly established Southeast Chapel.

Dedication

We, the members of the yearbook staff, proudly dedicate this 1966 Spartan to you—the student body of Southeast High School.

It is you who give life, spirit, and honor to our school. Without you Southeast would merely be a building—an inanimate object of little value to anyone. Because of you, the student body, our school is fast becoming one of the leading schools in Oklahoma City.

As the sun rose in the east, the band members began their daily rehearsal.

Seniors, Dennis Bogle and Mary Dee Taylor, discussed next year's college enrollment with Senior counselor, Mrs. Kellogg.

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y" was the battlecry as the Spartans defeated the Shawnee Bulldogs 14-7.

ALMA MATER

Southeast High all hail thy name,
We will always honor thee,
May thy colors blue and white
Live eternally.
Proudly stand for what is right
'Neath the wind swept sky,
Love and Honor we will give thee
As the years go by.

Southeast High, dear Southeast High
Long and proud may be thy fame.
May we always bring to thee
Honor to thy name.
May we keep our fondest dream
Till the day we die,
Loyal to our Alma Mater
God bless Southeast High.

When the morning bell rang students headed for their first hour class ready for another day of learning.

"We're from Southeast High School and no one could be prouder." These words and the student body's enthusiasm spurred the Spartans on to their first football victory over the Capitol Hill Redskins.

A student's life . . . Always new . . . Always exciting . . .

Freshmen:

Bewildered they come . . . So bewildered . . All the excitement and hoarseness of the first football games and the dances afterwards . . . Ninth grade girls pledging the Pep Club . . . Southeast Band perfecting its marching routine . . . Open House for the parents . . . Reports due . . . Club meetings encompassing language, science, and vocational ideals . . . Band concerts . . . Student Council elections . . . Royalty coronations . . . Everything a first and it's great, but there's more to come . . .

Sophomores:

Back to school . . . Renewed friendships . . . Pep Club meetings and candy sales before Halloween . . . Student Council representative elections . . . S.T.E.P. Tests given in the English classes . . . Biology experiments succeed or fail . . . T.V. history classes assemble in the auditorium . . . Drama classes taking us into the past, present, and future with outstanding productions . . . Wishful thinking about the Prom . . . Just wait until next year . . .

Juniors:

Back to school and they finally made the grade . . . Upper classmen at last, with Mr. Monk as the chief sponsor . . . Class rings are ordered . . . Cheerleader tryouts . . . Basketball season comes in with the winter . . . Cramming for important quizzes and the National Merit Scholarship Test . . . Junior-Senior Prom is all their project . . . S.E. stationery goes on sale . . . Then with luck and hard work they become Seniors with many happy memories of a prosperous Junior year . . .

Seniors:

At last, a long awaited year, Senior Year . . . Electing Student Council officers, class officers, club officers . . . Buying graduation announcements . . . Taking special scholarship exams and hoping to be a winner . . . The Sparkets always behind the teams . . . Wrestling events close on the heels of basketball season . . . Teachers urging new heights . . . Dreams of the Prom . . . Mr. and Miss Spartan and other royalty elections . . . The Spartan Shout covering the news . . .

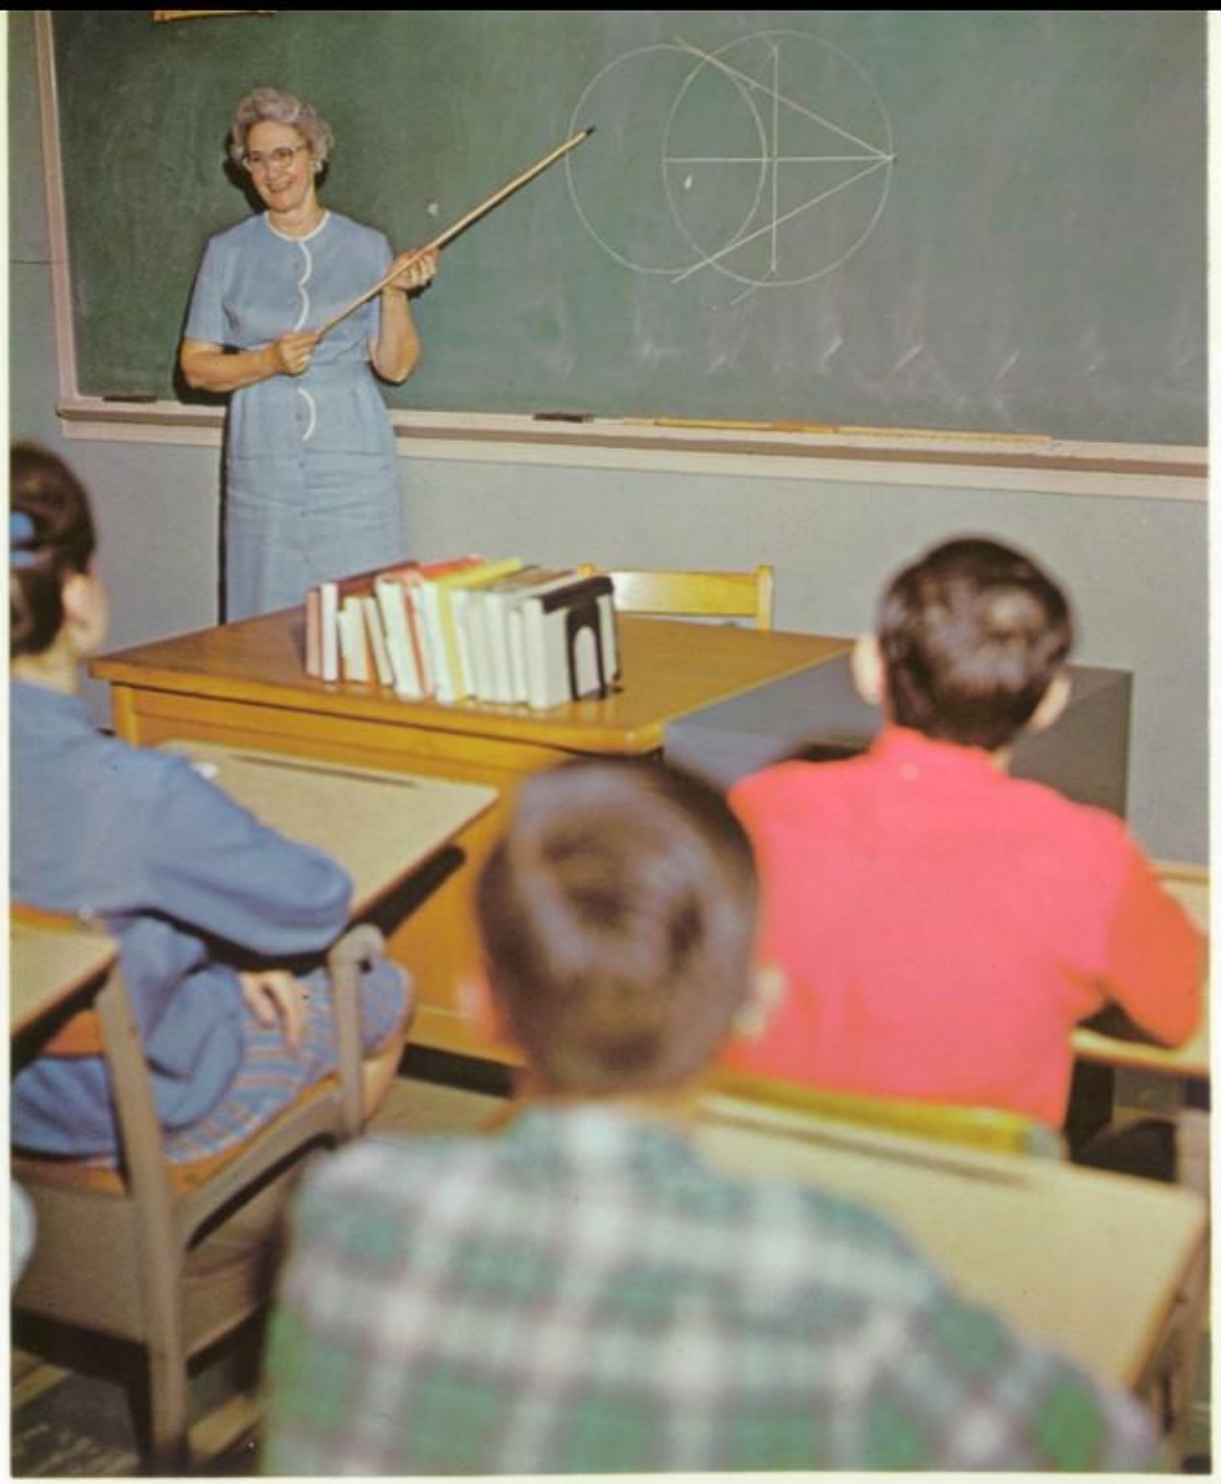
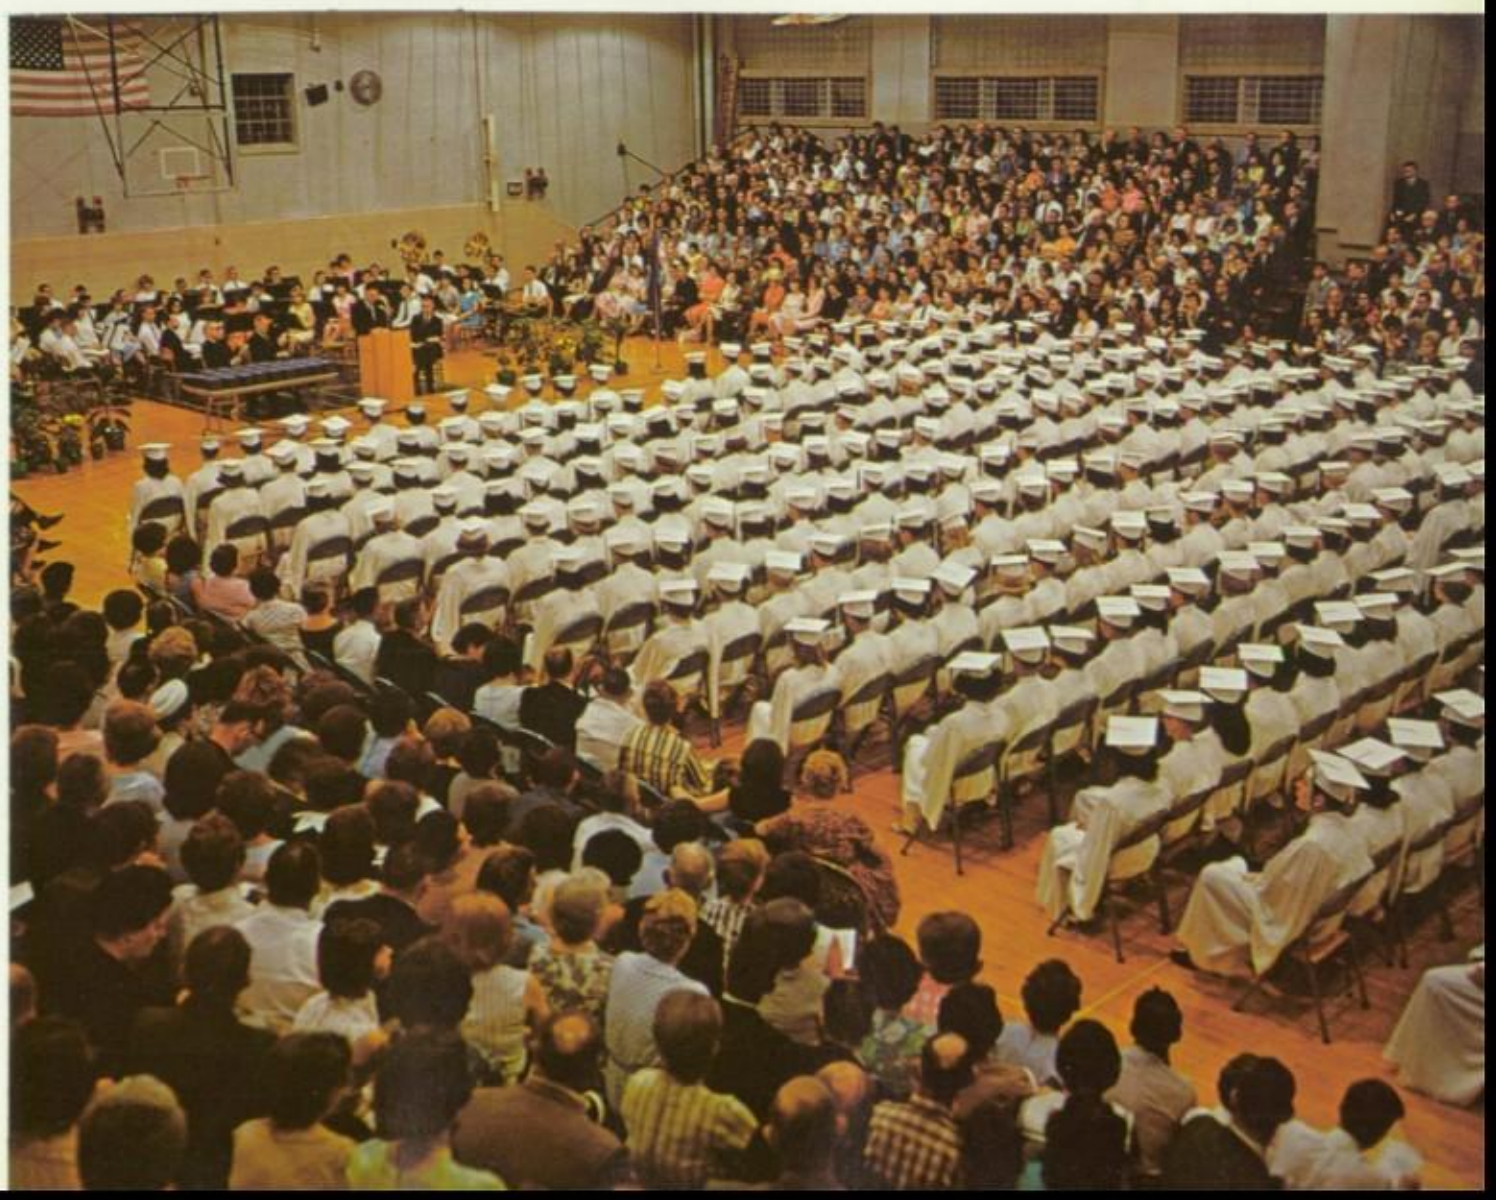
And then, the Seniors walk down the aisle on graduation night. Each leaves a little bit of his heart at Southeast and takes with him memories of four years that have brought him genuine friendships, lasting knowledge, and worthwhile hopes.

This is the exciting drama of school life—an ever-changing, ever-rewarding experience.



Instruction is the most vital part of any educational institution. By the end of four years, a Senior will have attended classes for 3,360 hours. This, of course, does not include the number of hours spent on homework. Thus by graduation time, each student should have acquired a well-rounded education as he begins his adult life.

The Spartans also have proved themselves scholastically, and graduation is the climax of four years of achievement in high school.



Board of Education

Keeping up with the educational needs in a city that persistently leaps toward the future is a full time job. It demands above all faith in America's future citizens and an unselfish devotion to the best welfare for all education, regardless of age, race, or location.

It's a job that requires tested and proved business procedures and a willingness to adhere to one's convictions. Fortunate is Oklahoma City to have members of the school board so seriously devoted to the job of guiding the youth of Oklahoma City.

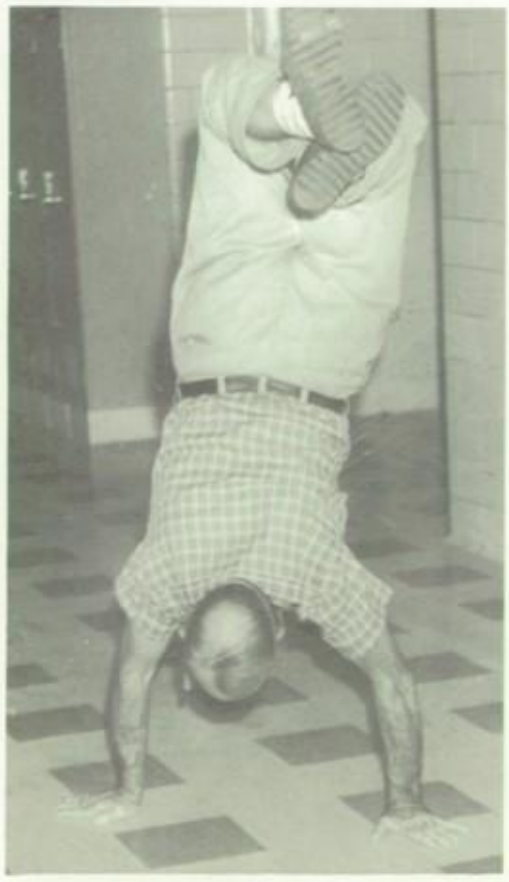
Mrs. Smith gave individual instruction to Linda Boston in the Cooperative Education class.

In their electronics class Leonard and Anna appeared to have spotted an unidentified flying object.

Mr. Pierce, school custodian, proved that age is no handicap to physical fitness.



We wonder if Mr. Hall ever heard a new excuse given by those frequently absent or tardy.

Seniors '66

The high light of each Senior's year is graduation night. This event, however, is only a climax to the most eventful year in any student's life.

Problems of choosing a vocation and/or a college is a challenge which must be faced sooner or later. After all, this is what one has been preparing for during the twelve years of schooling.

The ACT tests, a must for any college bound student, were faced and met bravely by the Seniors of '66. Many long years of training by an untold number of parents and teachers gave the Seniors the courage to continue their achievements even though graduation time was moving closer each day.

The Junior-Senior Prom produced gaiety and sophistication in the lives of these upper classmen.

Graduation night brought many tears to the eyes of the girls and lumps to the boys' throats when, assembled for the last time as students of Southeast, the class entered the gymnasium to receive the long-awaited diploma.

Who can ever forget that fabulous, wonderful, exhilarating feeling of being a Southeast Senior.

The Seniors of '66 were led by Wendell Graham, Pres., Joe Killingsworth, Vice Pres., Marilyn Manning, Sec., and Kay Rhodes, Treas.

It's been a very enjoyable year knowing you and going to school with you this past year. In the short time I've known you I've enjoyed being with you, you a great deal of fun to be with. I hope to see you more and have more enjoyable ~~evening~~ evenings with you. Lots of luck in the future in all you do. Best wishes always.

Your Pa!

Juniors

An enthusiastic election was the first order of business for the Junior Class of '66. In fact, three run-off ballots were required to decide who would have the honor of serving this class in these positions.

The major project of the Junior Class was the financial planning for the Junior-Senior Prom. A candy sale was begun in October, and Mr. Monk, Mrs. Everidge, and Mr. Snyder spent many hours checking out candy and checking in money as the class members urged fellow students and local school supporters to buy this delicious confection.

At the same time Mr. Monk and the Junior Class officers encouraged the Spartans to buy stationery with an etching of our school on the front cover.

For the first time in the history of Southeast an all school ring was chosen, and the Class of '67 was the first class to wear this Southeast symbol.

The National Merit Scholarship Tests were also scheduled for this class, and the students laboriously worked over these difficult tests to make a mark in the annals of NMSQT programs.

Of course, these are activities which each eleventh grade class faces, and this year's group met the challenge successfully.

Mike Green, Treas., marked the progress of the class's money raising while Glen Castle, Pres.; Edie Wallace, Vice Pres.; and Sherrie Cantwell, Sec., proudly watched.

Sophomores

Sophomores—the state of one year down and two more to go. The year of STEP tests and Julius Caesar!

Since the Sophomores elected no class officers and had no class projects, each student could devote full time to academic work and extra-curricular activities. They diagramed sentences, squared the root, pushed at push-up's, and cheered our teams on to victory. What more could be said than that they tackled each job and hopefully faced each day with vigor and enthusiasm—usually.

"Now, now, girls, flattery will get you everywhere," said Senior Gene Taylor to Sophomores Cheryl Holmes and Debbie Roebuck.

Freshmen

The expression, "green freshmen", hardly applied to this ninth grade class of '66, since these 328 students were members of the Southeast student body when they were in the 7th grade. The pangs of fright on the first day of high school did not apply to these underclassmen.

Each ninth grader took the STEP tests in his English class for a week in November.

Many of these boys made a very good showing in such athletic feats as junior high basketball, and wrestling.

Others were important parts of the band and choral groups.

The Freshman year was one exciting year and the school expects much from this class in the future.

It was a new first for the gym classes when Mrs. Landers began teaching the hula which she learned while studying at the University of Hawaii.

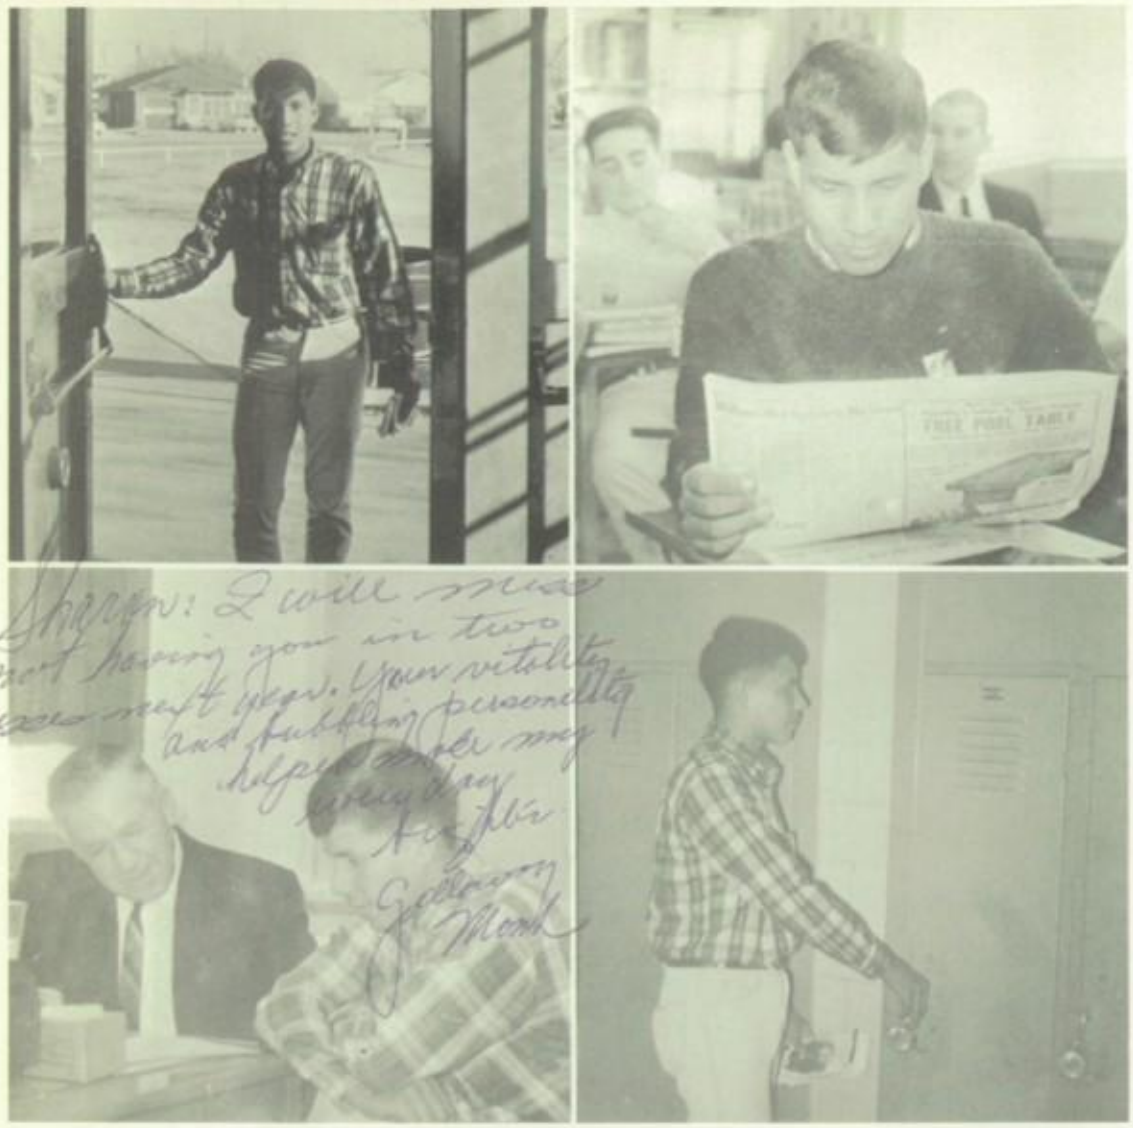
SCHOOL LIFE

"Youth comes but once in a lifetime."
Henry W. Longfellow

Fall . . .



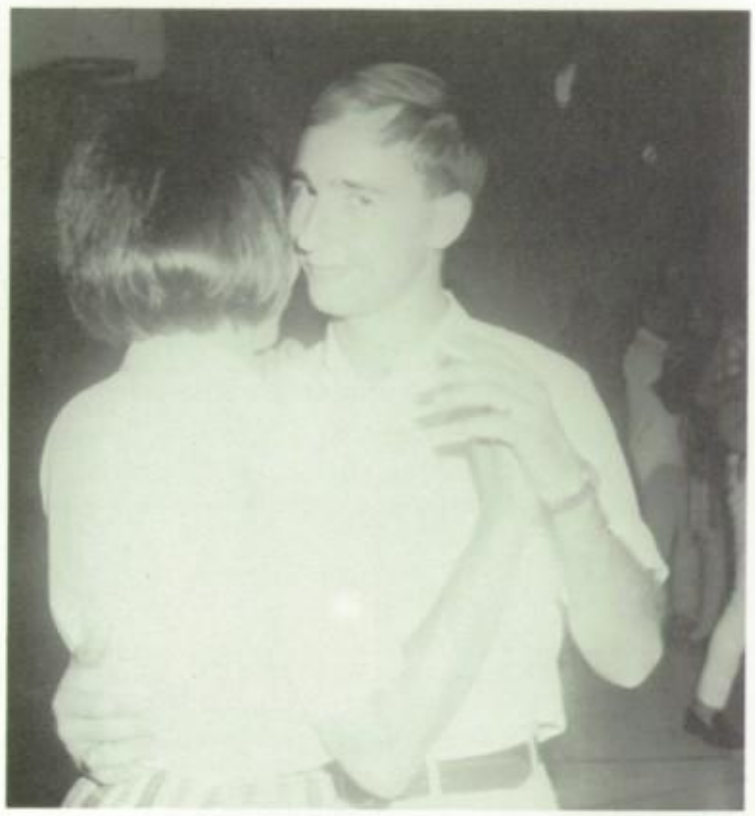
Life at Southeast is not exclusively composed of studies and extracurricular activities; there are certain intangible ingredients that can only be defined by a true Spartan.

Nothing can be more desolate than an empty, hollow school building, awaiting the life and laughter of its students. Going through the first day of school during a new year means renewing friendships, reviving school spirit, acquiring new challenges, and forever increasing our knowledge.

The spirit of the first pep assembly, the anxiety of the first football game, and the magnetism of the first dance brought an atmosphere of excitement to Southeast. Each loyal Spartan enthusiastically supported his team—win or lose.

"Ball, ball! Who's got the ball?" The Spartans and Redskins have a friendly tussle over that ever-popular football.

Senior Pattie Crow has hit upon a new means of transportation to school.



Mr. Rose enjoyed the first all-school dance almost as much as the students did.

"Just one more wreck and we're going to suspend your license indefinitely," said Seniors Duane Parker and Duane Chenoweth to Vernon Blankenship in the first "Tricycle Race" held at Southeast.

Southeast Annual staffers found out that Chicago really was the "Windy City" when they attended the National Scholastic Press Association meeting there during the Thanksgiving holiday.

"All work and no food makes Jack a dull boy." The Business English class took the pause that refreshes during Halloween.

The poor general suffered many indignities in the surge of school spirit before the S.E. vs. Grant football game.

Mr. Berry and Mr. Hall joke with the students at the pep rally before the Grant Game.

Who can forget the Spartan Shout's money raising assembly. It was fun-tastic.

Linda Strait, Vicki Goddard and Ann Black show Shirley Lawson the prizes which they won in a Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool contest. This disproved the theory that beauty and brains do not mix.

Southeast was honored by having Wendell Graham and Ken Crews as national delegates to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Southeast's Seniors were orientated for college during the annual College Day which was sponsored by the DECA Club.

"But girls, I think the coronation should be a little bit more formal," said Spanish Queen Gayle Grider to Linda Strait and Carol Minderman, her attendants.

"Whistle while you work!" The Madrigals enjoyed singing and whistling, too.

The Music and Art Department combined their talents to provide one of the most impressive assemblies Southeast has ever had.

Winter . . .

As temperatures gradually fell, the roundballers and matmen took the spotlight. Santa came and went, while Spartans enjoyed their Christmas vacation. As the new year was born, Spartans prayed for world-wide peace.

Old Man Winter saw many a Spartan spending time in front of a warm fire. Friendships were golden. They spent their leisure time enjoying the warmth and fun of good friends.

The Girls' Sextet sang at Southeast's first Pop Assembly.

Bill Dodson, candidate for STUCO President, hangs a campaign poster during the Student Council elections.

"I could have danced all night . . ." Larry Humphries seemed to be suggesting in the all school play, Ladies In Retirement.

Scenery, acting ability, and costuming all provided for a most hilarious all-school play, Ladies In Retirement.

Leaping in mid-air Senior Wendell Graham reached for another two points.

Basketball Queen candidates and attendants waited anxiously for the 1966 Basketball Queen to be announced.

Miss Staley's homeroom students welcomed the Christmas spirit by decorating their homeroom.

Carol Minderman and Debbie Roebuck mailed their letters to Saint Nick at the Santa Claus Post Office which was sponsored by the Student Council.

Mr. and Miss Santa Claus, Lynn Penington and Jonnie Daley, distributed gifts and cards to the good children of Spartanland.

That Was The Game That Was! Who can forget this year's basketball game between the Senior girls and Women Faculty members.

Snow, fun, and students all seemed to go together during the January "cold spell."

Andrea Breed and Shirley Cassidy with guitars accompanied the French classes during their French festival.

Locker inspection resulted in utter chaos for Debbie Roebuck and Dian Bower.

Mrs. Stark and Mr. Callum, Southeast's new biology teacher and new counselor, easily became acquainted with the school's schedule.

Spring . . .

Spring brought most Spartans outdoors. Hearts became alive as students began work on term papers, participated in Twirp Week, and anticipated graduation and summer vacation.

Spring meant a final whirl for the Seniors at Southeast. There was an air of excitement felt by the upperclassmen as they were entertained by the Juniors at the Prom and each soon-to-be graduate eagerly awaited preparation for college or the business world.

Spartans took time out for fun. Baseball and swimming became popular pastimes. Picnics meant a rest from the confusion always present during the last-of-school rush. A quiet walk relieved the tension of an overly confused mind. A Spartan could think about only his upcoming examinations and what the future might hold. Long after academic classes are forgotten, students will remember the fun and fellowship they enjoyed at Southeast.

Patsy Blackburn seemed to have a judo hold on Darryl Humphrey, which was a popular idea during Twirp Week.

"Which dress do you think I should wear?" said Barbara Semrad to Eydie Wallace as they talked about the upcoming Prom.

The Pep Club Banquet was a truly beautiful affair this year. David Pennell prepared to escort Pat Stansberry, Sparket president to this gala festivity.

Mother's cooking was never like this, but the students in the boys' food class ate it anyway.

Capitol Hill Junior Rotarian, Hank Batty, leaves Dodson's Cafeteria after a lecture and luncheon.

Mrs. Kellogg previewed the Southeast participants in the annual Youth & Citizenship Week.

"Ah-h-h Epic-who?" Ken Crews asked the Great Books discussion class, while Mrs. Caswell wonders if this really is the top ten percent of the Senior Class.

"Eat and be merry" for the Spartans found that the lunch period lasted only thirty minutes.

Southeast Downtown Junior Rotarians, Vance Mossler, Ken Crews, Joe Killingsworth, Wayne Ray, and Wendell Graham, left for the luncheon where they presented the program.

One, two, three and we were out at the old ball game.

"Looks like you're not going to get a cap for graduation, since you've gained so much knowledge," said Vonda Curtis to Dan Scott.

The Annual Staff breathed a sigh of relief when their final deadline was met.

CHIVALRY IS NOT DEAD. "That's what you think!" said Johnnie Daley to Jerry Blackburn, who lent her moral support as SHE fixed their flat tire on the way to the Prom.

Waving gracefully in the breeze, the flags of our country and our state proclaim the pride each Spartan feels for the good fortune of being an American.

Student Council

The Student Council began this successful year under the leadership of the sponsor, Miss Gill, and president, Ken Crews. At the final intra-city meeting last May, Ken was elected Intra-City President.

The first week of school the council sponsored "Howdy Week," which included a "Howdy Hop" and an election of Mr. and Miss Howdy. Two of the projects undertaken by the council were the writing of a new guidance booklet and the yearly compilation of a student directory.

During the holidays, food baskets were collected and a "Toys-for-Tots" drive was held. The members elected Lynn Pennington and Jonnie Daley to portray Mr. and Miss Santa.

The Student Council also sponsored the election of Mr. and Miss Spartan and "Spark of the Spartans."

In January new officers were elected and installed to begin a new team of Student Council business and leadership training.

The Student Council officers initiated the Christmas Holidays by decorating the school's Christmas tree in the front hall.

Sparkets

This year 180 girls strived to promote enthusiasm and school spirit through their attendance and support of the Spartan teams. These girls, known as the Sparkets, were guided by Miss Story and two new sponsors, Mrs. Landers and Mrs. Smith.

The Pep Club attended a majority of the football and basketball games, wrestling matches, and other school sports. They sponsored the Buddy Coronation, Homecoming activities, and the yearly cheerleader tryouts.

The Pep Club girls earned money by ushering at rodeos, baseball and basketball games, and plays, and they also sold candy and sports ribbons. With this money they highlighted the year by holding a dinner-dance at Val Gene's in April.

President Pat Stansberry handed her completed records to Miss Story, Pep Club sponsor, at the last officers' meeting of the 1965-66 school year.

"Hello Dolly, it was swell, Dolly." Southeast Sparkets were honored by being asked to usher for the record-breaking musical starring Carol Channing.

Pep Club Cheerleaders

Southeast cheerleaders stood high in the ranks of state cheerleaders.

The rhythm of the Southeast Fight Song swayed the mass of students in the pep assembly.

Future Teachers of America

America's need for large numbers of good teachers has never been more acute than it is today. The opportunities in education as a life-work have never been more challenging or more promising.

Individuals who plan to be teachers usually make up their minds about their vocation in high school. The Future Teachers of America Clubs help these people to find the answers to such questions as—What is teaching really like? What is a good teacher? Do I have what it takes to be a good teacher?

This year members of the F.T.A. attended the O.F.T.A. Fall Conference which was held in October at Jefferson Junior High. Discussion groups were led by state teachers in all areas of education.

Later in March, some of the students attended the State F.T.A. Convention at Stillwater on the O.S.U campus.

"It's m-m-m good!" The F.T.A. party was filled with pleasure and calories. But, Nancy Peterson, Kay Hodges, and Linda Strait didn't seem to mind.

Linda Strait, V. Pres., Debbie Rusmisel, Sec.-Treas., Mrs. Carson, and Kay Hodges, Pres., discussed plans for future F.T.A. activities.

FRENCH CLUB—Row 1: Weldon, Reporter; Rhodes, Treas.; Rowe, Sec.; Crews, V. Pres.; Honea, Pres. Row 2: Minnis, Scalf, Brooks, Goddard, Muse, Mrs. White, Sponsor. Row 3: Barries, Henderson, Shuler, Graham.

Mr. Hull explained to Carol Morphis, Robert Rogers, Elaine Knapp and Bobby Winstead how an oscilloscope functions.

Electronics Club

The purpose of the Electronics Club is to promote student interest in electronics in both the personal enjoyment of this knowledge and its application in future professions which use electronics.

The members undertook several activities for operational expenses of the club. The first project included the building of a radar set. The electronics room has ten radar sets with which they study radar circuitry which is opening a new field of interest for the novice members.

DECA

DE Students belong to DECA—"Distributive Education Club of America."

The Club sponsors activities which provide opportunities for student growth and development of leadership, occupational understanding, civic consciousness, and social intelligence.

Student-trainees participate in DECA activities on the local level. They may also participate in state and national leadership conferences.

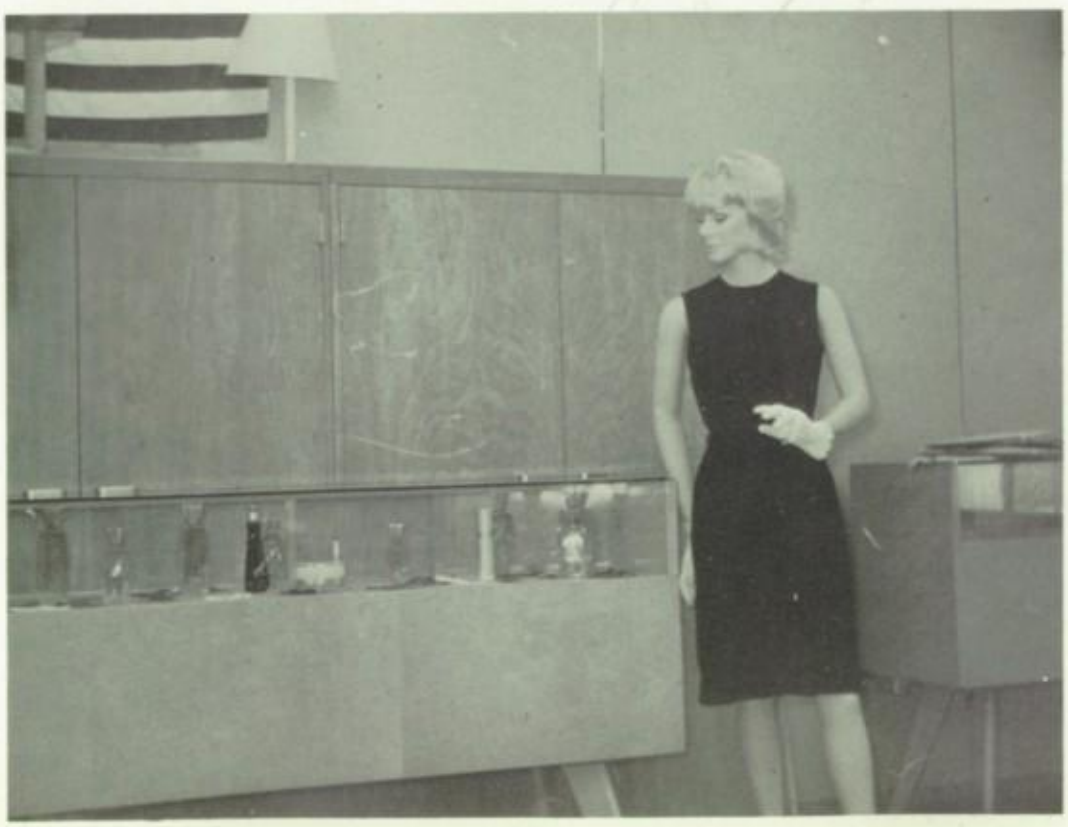
Former President, Ken Lunsford, skillfully initiated the new DECA club members and officers.

DECA Queen, Vicky Allen, happily smiles upon her loyal subjects.

Learning to display merchandise was one of the projects learned by DECA students.



President, Mark Chase proudly admires the DECA blazer worn by Mr. King.

Concert Band

This year's activities of the Southeast Band have been lauded by the city newspapers. The first honor was the second Sweepstake Award given to the "Pride of Southeast" at the Fair Day Parade. They brought home a superior rating at the Capitol Hill Marching Contest and won recognition at the East Central Homecoming Parade and the Panhandle Central State College Parade. Twice the Stage Band appeared on local television stations, and the marching band played at the dedication of the Stanley Draper Expressway.

What our orchestra may have lacked in number this year it certainly didn't lack in talent. To prove the point, Norma Oakes and Pam Magee were selected for this year's All-State Orchestra. These two musicians performed at a concert given by the All-State Orchestra at the University of Oklahoma in February. The entire group participated in the East Central-Ada contest.

Mr. Morgan and the seven orchestra members participated in the spring concert presented by orchestra members that attend Southside Oklahoma City schools.

Edith Davis was honored this year by being asked to perform with the Oklahoma City Symphony.

Music Department

The vocal music department has grown considerably over the last few years.

New to the organization this year were the Madrigal Singers and programs given in combination with the instrumental music department. For the first time the two groups sponsored a pop concert and a box supper in order to raise more money for the music departments. They also exchanged assemblies with the Stillwater High School mixed chorus.

The Mixed Choir attended a clinic at the Oklahoma University. They performed for the Thanksgiving Assembly and the group performed at the Shepard Mall Concert while the Madrigal Singers sang at several civic banquets, the football breakfast, the Annual Youth Variety Show, and the Ida B television show.

Morning Inspiration

A religious atmosphere at school has been a controversial issue in the country in the last year. Yet, Southeast has maintained this atmosphere and has, in fact, gained insight through the reverent attitude of the Morning Inspiration devotions.

The chapel service extends an open invitation to any member of the student body or faculty to attend, regardless of religion.

Chapel is similar to Morning Inspiration except that guest speakers attend the chapel. Cleeta John Rogers was one of the many guests who honored Southeast with his religious viewpoint.

These officers helped to organize Chapel, a new branch of the Morning Inspiration. They are Diana Aycox, Pres.; Edith Davis 1st V. Pres.; James Clark, 2nd V. Pres.; Bobbie Hunter, Sec.; Jill Hibbard, Treas.; and Jan Hibbard, Song Leader.

The Quill and Scroll Society of Southeast High School elected twenty-five journalists to be members for the 1965-1966 school year, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Everidge.

Quill and Scroll, which is the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized on April 10, 1926, by a group of high school advisors. The purpose of the organization is to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism and allied fields. The Society takes an active part in raising standards in its field and in directing the course of high school journalism. Charters have been granted to more than 7,500 high schools, both public and private, in all fifty states and around the world.

Requirements for membership in the club are (1) a student must be a Junior or Senior and be in the upper one-third of his class in general scholastic standing; (2) a student must have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications, and (3) a student must have been recommended by a publication supervisor for this honor.

Yearbook Staff

It was no easy job to be a member of the yearbook staff, and at the end of the year the staff members felt a sense of accomplishment at seeing their completed product, the SPARTAN.

This year six of the Seniors on the staff journeyed to the National Scholastic Press Association Conference in Chicago. The Staff was also represented at the Fall and Spring meetings of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association at O.U., sponsored dances, were guests at other city school assemblies, and distributed and collected class pictures.

Remembering the ever-present deadlines, the staff worked all summer and late at night, wrote approximately 30,000 yearbook receipts, scheduled pictures, and typed copy—all these efforts combined made our 1966 SPARTAN.

Art Club

Inasmuch as the development of creative individuals is essential to a free and democratic society, art experience helps students to develop the ability to create, reflect, reason, symbolize, and identify themselves with their environment.

Some of the fields in which the students worked this year were oils, inks, block print, commercial signs, fashions, sculpture, tempera media, copper, leather, mosaic, formica, and ceramics.

Debbie Roebuck, Cindy Rhodes, Carl Parker, Mike Depue and Becky Saak display the different types of art taken to contest at Edmond.

Girls' O'Club

Good sportsmanship has always been used at Southeast, but this year the Girls' O'Club has proved it even more.

They started the year with the initiation of eight new members. These girls were pledges for one week. During this time they wore their clothes backward, left their hair uncombed, and performed a chore of other weird duties for their fellow club members.

The girls also served the community with service projects such as selling candy and donating the proceeds to diabetic children in the Oklahoma City area. They collected food and clothing and distributed these as Thanksgiving baskets.

Credit should certainly be given to the girls for contributing to the good reputation of Southeast High School.

Spartans Finish 5th in State

FOOTBALL—The modern game of football had its origin in an ancient Roman game called harpastum. In this game a small round or oval object, usually the inflated bladder of an animal, was kicked, punched, driven or carried across some goal. The skill required for playing the modern game of football clearly distinguishes it from its predecessor.

On any given day from mid-August until mid-November the Spartan football team could be found practicing and developing this skill. The pre-season forecasts held the Spartans in an awesome position. The boys knew that it would take some mighty hard playing to hold this coveted place. They seldom gave any ground and then only grudgingly to finish as the number five team in the state in their class.

HARDING——

Although the valiant Spartans were rated highly, the Eagles of Harding seemed to be determined to see the Spartans go down in defeat. The driving force of the Eagles seemed to be slightly stronger than that of the Spartans; thus, they edged it out at 12 to 6.

CAPITOL HILL——

After a week-long practice, the never-say-die Spartans bounced back. They gave Capitol Hill the first defeat it had ever received from Southeast with a trouncing score of 26 to 6.

SHAWNEE——

Having defeated the Wolves in the previous year, the Spartans were eager to again take on Shawnee at Capitol Hill Stadium. After a hard fought battle lasting into the fourth quarter, the Spartans came out victorious with a score of 12 to 6.

Steve Choate led the opposing defense on a merry chase down the field.

JOHN MARSHALL———

Having suffered defeat from the Bears for the last three years, the Spartans were looking for revenge as they took on John Marshall in the number one game of the week. Southeast jumped off to a quick lead and it seemed as though they kept pouring it on for the rest of the game by winning 36 to 20.

McALESTER———

Riding on a three game winning streak the Spartans' spirit was high as they clashed with the top AA team in the state. Fighting down to the last quarter and finding themselves behind, the Spartans put forth an all-out effort to come from behind as the Spartans scored in the last minute to beat the Buffaloes 14 to 8.

DEL CITY———

After winning their fourth game in a row, the Spartans traveled to Del City to meet with the Eagles. There, after a hard fought battle, the Spartans added one more victory by defeating the Eagles 20 to 7.

NORTHEAST———

Still with only one game in the loss category, the Spartans next met the Vikings on home territory. Commanding the lead all through the game, the Spartans were able to hold off Northeast in a cliff-hanger with a score of 14 to 8.

GRANT———

The eighth game of the year saw amazing prospects for Southeast. With only two more conference games to be played, Southeast was undefeated in conference play. The Spartans battled their old rivals from Grant to a 0 to 0 score at half-time. Going into the third quarter neither team had scored. In the fourth quarter with only 9:41 left on the clock Grant scored with a field goal. With less than five minutes left on the clock, Southeast scored making the score 6 to 3. They held this margin to defeat the Generals.

MIDWEST CITY———

Neither Southeast nor Midwest City had lost a conference game all year. The winner of this game would go to state play-offs. Although the Spartans played to the best of their ability, they were defeated by Midwest City in a game of 33 to 18.

Wrestling

Wrestling is one of the oldest sports in the world. Its existence was known as early as 3000 B.C. in Egypt and Babylonia. Ancient Greek legends tell of the wrestling exploits of Ajax and Ulysses. Wrestling is a body-contact sport in which two contestants grapple on a mat, each attempting to pin the other in a given period of time.

This year under the direction of Maurice Pierce, the wrestlers compiled 7 and 4 record and placed second in conference, as they pinned such teams to the mat as Harding, Douglass, Geary, and Northeast. The Spartans competed in four tournaments, taking second at Sapulpa, second in Capital Conference, third at Hobart, and fourth in the all City Tournament.

In their eighth year of wrestling the Southeast Grapplers were sparked by 106 pounder Neil Choate, who placed in all four tournaments and took second at regionals in AA.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the greatest distinctions bestowed upon any student. In addition to a B+ average, membership is based upon qualities of leadership, service, and character.

This year 126 students met these requirements and were chosen to be members of the Society. Bill Dodson, Pres., Mike Prince, V. Pres., Tamsen Murray, Sec., and Jimmy Porter, Treas. were the elected officers who aided the sponsor Mrs. Eckstein.

The Honor Society members were recognized and the new members were initiated in a special assembly March 3.

The students whose names appear on these pages are the honored students at Southeast. They have received honors awarded by national and local civic organizations, outstanding businessmen in our city, and the various departments within the school. Through their personal initiative they have each excelled in the field of greatest endeavor, and in turn their excellence is rewarded by being named the honor students at Southeast High School.

Some students, such as Ken Crews, have received recognition throughout the city. Ken served as president of the Inter-city Student Council.

It is with great pride that these pages are dedicated to these students and this pride makes these two pages the most revered pages in the 1966 Spartan.

With this page the curtain falls bringing to a close the last scene of a Spartan's life in '66. Each person has played his role as he chose to feel his part.

In one hectic whirl, 1965-66 passed before the Spartans and was gone almost before they realized it. Although the events are now past history, they will become an integral part of the memories of Southeast High School.

Next year, the curtain again will rise with a different setting and different characters but with the same theme—education of youth.

I'm the seventeenth guy to sign this annual. I am really privileged to be that number this year. I do like that chaparral though. I really do like that chaparral there I am wearing, but then I particularly like anything good. Best of luck to you. I hope you can be in Psyche (if anything) next year. I can be in the unjoyables with you. Wayne Ray

Sharon:
I'm sure enjoy knowing you. Hope you have a real nice next year. I have fun together next year.

Sharon,

I really have enjoyed knowing you this past year we have become very good friends. I hope that in some way things will work out when Mike gets back and straightens things out. I am still hoping that we can become Sister-in-laws. I hope Larry doesn't read this because I would like to keep his friendship but I don't think he is good enough for you. I might be prejudice but I am trying not to be. You know what I think of you and you know how close our friendship has been this year I just hope we can be even closer friends next year. You have a wonderfully crazy personality and a beutiful smile to go with it. We really have had fun this past year. I only hope we can have more good times together this summer and next year. Please be careful and don't ever forget me, even if I get married. I wish you all the luck in the world. Stay as sweet as you are and you will go far in life. Keep smiling and don't ever forget me or David. May God Bless you and keep you. Love Ya!
